SUSTAINABILITY

As responsible stewards of the environment, J+J Flooring and EF Contract believe in using all resources as efficiently and judiciously as possible, prioritizing conservation, and consumption reduction before recycling or reuse.

With conservation at the heart of our sustainability philosophy, finding alternatives for (and preventing the excessive use of) valuable resources is the basis of our approach to environmental impact management.

We believe true sustainability requires full attention to the potential impacts of every aspect of our business. Like other leading companies, we gauge our progress by measuring our environmental and social performance with as much stringency.

R4 In 2007 Engineered Floors Commercial Division developed the industry-leading R4 Program - return, reuse, recycle, reduce - to facilitate the recycling of all carpet, LVT and Kinetex samples and architect folders that are no longer needed.

TRANSPARENCY

In addition to J+J Flooring and EF Contract's own measurements, we rely on independent auditing and certification agencies to ensure the accuracy and verifiability

These neutral external services provide us with the credibility we know the marketplace deserves from us.

We verify the material health and environmental responsibility of all modular, broadloom and Kinetex products using Environmental Product Declarations (EPDs) and Health Product Declarations (HPDs) based upon third-party verified Life Cycle Assessment data.

To do our part in the broader economic transition towards decarbonization, we purchase carbon offsets. So far we have bought 9,109 metric tons of certified carbon offsets from a project verified under a leading, internationally recognized verification standard.

IF YOU WANT A PRODUCT OTHER THAN OUR CARBON NEUTRAL KINETEX AND NEXUS CUSHION, WE CAN MAKE THAT ORDER CARBON NEUTRAL.
